ALL SAINTS

Having spent the last weekend reminding everyone in the house that the clocks go back, I forgot to alter the time on the clock in my office. Forgetting that this clock was an hour ahead I headed off last Tuesday for the Council of Priests Meeting only to find that I was the only one there. The cleaning staff at the building thought I must have been living in a different time zone for the last few days and I was suitably humbled - I wouldn't mind but I had been at morning prayer and mass at the correct time earlier that morning. At present it does feel as though we are living in different time zones here at Cathedral House as we look ahead to planning for 2016 and the Holy Year, and 2017 when the Cathedral will celebrate its own 50th Jubilee Year and yet quite a number of events recently have been reflecting back 50 years to the time of the Vatican Council with the many memories this evoked of the church during that period. Not only this but I have been delving further into the past reading a history of the papacy by Eamonn Duffy which I had purchased at the Car Boot sale, of all places, an enjoyable read and it gives a great insight into the highs and low points of church history through the lives and influences of the vast array of popes throughout the centuries. The book is a reminder that even within the 'See of Peter' the church is a community of Saints and Sinners, we are all on a pilgrim way to the fullness of life with God - that truth is at the heart of the Feasts of All Saints and All Souls which we celebrate over these next few days and these festivals transcend all time.

Throughout the month of November we will pray for deceased members of our families and Cathedral Community - there will be a book of remembrance which will be left in the Cathedral for names to be entered in and this will be brought up to the altar during the 5.15pm evening mass on All Souls day. There will also be a basket in the various chapels where mass is celebrated for pious lists to be remembered at masses throughout the month.

There is a gathering of Anglican Cathedral Pastors in Liverpool this week and they will be visiting us on Thursday afternoon for tea and a talk and a walk round. The tea and welcome is easy enough but having seen their hectic schedule I think they will be glad of a brief and light hearted few words on Cathedral life from a catholic perspective. Next Saturday Upton Hall Celebrate their annual school mass at 2.30pm which is one of the occasions when we have a full Cathedral for a Eucharistic celebration. Next Sunday is Remembrance Sunday and we will hold a minutes silence at the start of the 10am and 11am mass with the laying of a wreath in front of the High Altar. There will also be an afternoon Service of Remembrance for the Merchant Navy at 3pm.

This year it is the Cathedrals turn to put on the Schools Advent /Christmas Services and I believe the script is now complete but being kept under wraps by the producer. There have not even been any leaks as to who is playing what part and the only instructions I have received is to make sure that the three kings carriages are charged up and ready - which means finding some kind organisation to loan us them first of all! Cathedral life is anything but dull and predictable!

By the time you are reading this, the half term break will be coming to an end and we will be preparing to return to school for Autumn 2 already! This is always a busy few weeks and as the Advent season approaches, school becomes a hive of excitement with the various Christmas productions and cathedral services. This year, we have been asked to take part in the schools Advent cathedral service that is being hosted by our own cathedral so are busy preparing a class full of sheep and angels! This coming week some of our children will take part in a matball competition and our Year 4 class are holding a Greek day. The youngest members of our school community are off to Otterspool on the train so fingers crossed the weather is kind to them. Mrs Vicki Fallon
