A New Cathedral 1960

A major exhibition opens at Liverpool's Metropolitan Cathedral of Christ the King this Thursday, 27 July 2017. 'A new Cathedral 1960' examines what might have been had an alternative design been chosen for the site on Mount Pleasant in 1960.

The unique exhibition has been produced by Dominic Wilkinson of the Liverpool School of Art and Design and has been funded by the National Lottery Heritage Fund North West with thanks also due to John Moores University and the Cathedral Jubilee Committee for supporting the project.

Many of the final shortlisted schemes, though highly praised, have until now remained filed away in archives and offices in various locations.

As part of the fiftieth Jubilee celebrations of the completion of the Metropolitan Cathedral a decision was taken to collate plans and formulate a number of models of the other shortlisted designs for the Cathedral. They give a wonderful insight into the changing nature of church design of that period and the many different interpretations of the brief given for the project.

In 1959 Archbishop John Carmel Heenan announced an international architectural competition to produce a completely new building, which would relate to the existing Crypt and be capable of construction within five years. Of 298 entries from all over the world Sir Frederick Gibberd's design was chosen and building began in October 1962.

Professor Dominic Wilkinson says, 'The daunting prospect of tracking down 298 competition entries from around the world after an interval of 50 years should probably have put someone off at the start, but then ignorance is bliss. The purpose of tracing the designs was twofold; to provide the material for an exhibition as part of the Jubilee celebrations and to give an insight into this important turning point in the architecture of Catholic churches'.

Cathedral Dean, Canon Anthony O'Brien sees the exhibition as a celebration, 'We are blessed to have a unique and instantly recognisable Cathedral building. This Exhibition entitled 'A new Cathedral, 1960' is not so much a case of what might have been but rather a celebration of the best of architectural design of the 1960s.'

The exhibition runs from Thursday 27 July to Sunday 10 September in the main entrance area of the Cathedral. It is open from 10.00 am to 4.00 pm each day and entry is free.

ST VINCENT'S LOTTERY NUMBERS

For week commencing 15 July. Winning numbers are 1, 3, 8, 10, 11 and 12. The prize was £250. There were no winners so the prize is now £300. Please speak to a member of staff in Cathedral House if you would like to join up.

JOURNEY IN FAITH

This is a group process for anyone who may wish to become a Catholic. We meet at the Cathedral for a series of Mondays (6pm) between the end of September and Easter. Journey in Faith is for those who are practising Christians of different denominations. It is for those who belong to other faiths and religions. It is for those who may be searching for faith. The content is all about exploring Catholic belief and practice through Scripture and Church Teaching. This is not a series of classes and assessments, rather occasions to share experiences and to learn from each other. The plan is to gather a group together any time from now so that we are ready to start in the autumn. Then at the Easter Vigil we shall receive those who desire full reception into the Church. We have three enquirers already. Be confident that a warm welcome awaits you.

VOLUNTEERS REQUIRED

Marie Curie Helper volunteers are needed to provide support to terminally ill people and their families. Marie Curie are looking for adults who are interested in providing support to local people living with a terminal illness. Can you spare up to three hours once a week to visit someone in their home to offer a listening ear, emotional support and practical information? Such visits also give families a chance to take a short break from their caring role. No previous experience is needed; training and ongoing support provided and travel expenses paid. If interested in this very rewarding role, please call 0800 304 7402 or email liverpoolhelper@mariecurie.org.uk. Thank you.

WORKHOUSE TO WORSHIP

1st August-29th September 2017
An exhibition on display in the Hornby Library in Liverpool Central Library in William Brown Street shows the Mount Pleasant site prior to the construction of the Metropolitan Cathedral of Christ the King. The crypt for the uncompleted Cathedral by Sir Edwin Lutyens was opened in 1937. Previously the site was occupied by Brownlow Hill Workhouse which was finally demolished in 1931 and at one time the largest workhouse in England. Brownlow Hill Workhouse opened in 1771 in open countryside to provide shelter for the poor and destitute of the parish of Liverpool.

Known as a 'town within a town', it occupied a 9 acre site that in time came to serve 5,000 inmates. The responsibility for building the Workhouse, its staffing and administration fell on the local Board of Guardians, or in Liverpool the Select Vestry. Religious worship was encouraged and an Anglican church was built within the confines, although Roman Catholic services were not allowed until 1844 and did not become a regular occurrence until 1856. Father Joseph Kelly celebrated Mass for the Catholic congregation from 1907 to 1927. His Police Identity Certificate is available to view on display along with the monstrance used in services. There are Workhouse architectural plans, paintings, maps, photographs, apprentice indentures, Christmas invitations and many more related records of interest on display.
